In Memorium John William Elrod

Under somber skies and unrelenting rain, more than 1,000 University, community and education leaders gathered Sunday in historic Lee Chapel for the funeral of Washington and Lee President John William Elrod, who died early July 27, 2001, when his heart gave out after a two-year battle with cancer.

Elrod's wife of 37 years, Mimi Milner Elrod, and their two sons, Adam and Joshua, led a lengthy procession of family members into the chapel, where the Elrods' 5-year-old granddaughter, Sierra, sat quietly next to her pregnant mother, Francile. With the family was Elrod's brother, Robert, and his wife, Nan; his sister, Joan, and her husband Ron; and many members of the Milner family.

At least 20 Trustees and Trustees Emeritus were present, as well as dignitaries and distinguished guests such as Josiah Bunting III, Superintendent of neighboring Virginia Military Institute; the Rev. Pat Robertson, class of 1950; former W&L presidents Robert E.R. Huntley and John Wilson.

The 40-minute, hymn-filled funeral was led by the Rev. William M. Klein, Elrod's friend and minister at Lexington Presbyterian Church. "There's much that could be said of John, but he would not have us eulogize," said Klein. "John greeted every day with a verse: 'This is a day the Lord has made. Let us rejoice and be glad," he added. "Such awareness of life is rare."

Klein continued, "John's life was a gift of God's grace, a gift too soon gone from us. It is appropriate to grieve one greatly loved. Go from this place today with words of thanks and praise for John Elrod, whose work is done and done well."

> "When I stand before God at the end of my life, I would hope that I would not have a single bit of talent left and could say, 'I used everything you gave me.'"
> -Erma Bombeck

Elrod, 61, joined W&L as Dean of the College in 1984 and assumed the office of President in July 1995. Elrod, a philosophy professor and widely regarded scholar on the Danish philosopher Soren Kierkegaard, continued to teach through his deanship and subsequent vice presidency at the 2,100-student University. Even as president, Elrod maintained his close contact with students through weekly family-style dinners at his home.

Through his leadership as W&L's 22nd president, the University has achieved its most comprehensive faculty, facility and student diversity growth period in its history. Elrod spearheaded a visioning process that resulted in the University's 2005 Strategic Initiatives. W&L buildings reflecting his efforts as dean and president include W&L's seven-story science center, a five-building sorority complex, a new baseball field and the recently launched construction of W&L's first Student Commons, a student fitness center and the complete renovation of the Department of Journalism's Reid Hall.

> "Integrity - We make a living by what we get; we make a life by what we give.
> Truth - Always do right. This will gratify some people and astonish the rest.
> Courage - Only those who dare to fail greatly can ever achieve greatly.
> Honor - It is better to fail than to win by deceit."
> -Winston Churchill, Mark Twain, Robert F. Kennedy, and Sophocles

Above all, however, Elrod was remembered for his kindness and humanity. Two months ago, in one of Elrod's last public appearances, he spoke to several thousand cancer survivors and supporters at the Lexington-area's "Relay for Life " to raise money for the American Cancer Society. Moments earlier, he and Mimi joined the hundreds who walked the stadium's track at Rockbridge County High School. Elrod introduced himself to the crowd without any mention of his position. Instead, he said simply, "It's an honor to be here to talk about my experience with cancer." He shared details of his fight, from his diagnosis in late 1998 to the removal of his kidney soon after. A year later, his cancer metastasized into a lung; in recent months, it continued to spread.

"We've learned a lot about living with this disease, like every cancer survivor," Elrod said. "I've developed an attitude of gratitude. I'm not grateful I have cancer. I am grateful for everything else...the hospitals, my doctors...who give me great care and hope.

"I don't think there has been a single day I haven't felt positive about life," Elrod continued. "I can't imagine living with cancer without this attitude...This disease pushes everyone against the wall with questions, How should I live my life? How should I prepare for my death? I can't imagine dealing with this without feeling it makes som difference in the scheme of things."

The joys of D-hall are quickly known to most freshmen, just look at the smile on this girls face!

As the largest class in W&L history prepared to move in, the town of Lexington came to life. Nearly 500 students, their parents, and siblings descended loaded with boxes of clothes, new laptops, carpets, and, of course, a fan. With the help of the FOC, students quickly and painlessly took the boxes to their dorms and faced their roommates for the first time. Tradition held, and it poured on move in day. After working up a nice sweat, coupled with wet shirts and frizzy hair from the rain, students headed to the C-School to receive their University Card, complete with pictures which would haunt some of them for the next four years. After a cook out in the BDG Quad, students undertook the enormous task of arranging their rooms as their parents retreated to Lee Chapel to listen to President Boetsch speak. Then it was time for their first experience in D-Hall, as they sent their parents back to the hotel for the night. That night was the first experience of frat parties for most of the Freshman Class, and after a long night of meeting people, most of who's names were forgotten immediately, the class of 2005 retreated to their freshly made beds and collapsed from a very successful move in day. - by Kelly Jo Larsen

The B-B-Q on the BDG Quad on move-in is a timeless W&L tradition, giving students and parents one last time to eat together, and a chance to take a break from trying to organize their dorm room.

Homecoming 2001 was one to remember. As alumni invaded Lexington, they were in for a packed weekend. Friday included an Alumni luncheon as well as the SAB sponsored band, Galatic. Saturday was a busy day with acting president's Boetsch address, "W&L today," soccer and volleyball games, a memorial service, and an alumni lacrosse game. Additionally, there was a school and alumni sponsored tailgate at the old baseball field with burgers and music. This year's tailgate differed from the previous years in that it was alcohol free. Football ensued with the Generals playing Catholic coming through with a win of 18-12. At halftime, Chi Psi's nominee, Stacy McLoughlin, won homecoming queen with Agnes Flak receiving first runner up representing SAIL. Homecoming wound up with Saturday night bands at the frat houses including such bands as Zoso, Woodside Quinn, Cast Iron Filter, and Snackbar Jones. - by Sarah Sturtz

The cold wind that blew in Lexington in late October brought with it hoards of visitors, as Parents' Weekend 2001 came to W & L. Besides going to classes, touring the campus, and looking at the gaping whole between the library and the gym, parents got to experience the new tailgating activities on the Sorority Promenade before the football game. Students got to go out to eat at restaurants such as The Wilson-Walker House and The Southern Inn with their parents footing the bill, and nothing is better than an all-expenses-paid trip to Wal-Mart!

Cocktail parties and bands filled the evening schedules as families made their way to Red Square and Davidson Park to party the night away at the fraternity houses. Christmas Weekend 2001:
A Welcome Escape

As fall term came to a close this year, students had one reprieve to look forward to: the annual Christmas Weekend celebrations. Students all over campus set aside their books for a night or two to don fuzzy Christmas hats and dresses intended for much warmer weather in order to enjoy a weekend of revelry and stress relief. A few Christmas trees were used in untraditional ways, and students tapped into creative energies to see what else needed to be covered with Christmas lights.

Looming exams temporarily forgotten, W&L fraternities and SAB provided an outlet for merry-making in this holiday season. Whether at a cocktail party, dinner with friends, or dancing the night away, students took the chance to spend some last enjoyable moments with their friends before heading home for Christmas break.

Dance With the Dragon: A Memorable Evening of Dance and Pleasure

On the night of March 22, 2002, W&L students, faculty and staff gathered in Doremus Gym for "An Imperial Ball" in celebration of the Chinese New Year. Students lucky enough to be at the right place at the right time (and sober enough to remember it) witnessed the dance of the Chinese dragon in the small gym.

After Thursday night's SAB concert featuring Grammy award-winning Bela Fleck and the Fleckstones, students put aside their daily concerns to start stressing about getting their tuxes in time, finding the perfect dress and the nail polish to match, and finding that special someone that merits spending an entire evening with. These concerns alleviated, students had the option between rocking the night away in the motown room and swinging the night away in the small gym.

The FD Steering Committee, composed of dedicated students who spent months planning for the event, decorated the gym to look like a Chinese celebration, providing an elegant and memorable environment.

After the end of winter term W&L students know that they have something to look foward to. W&L's unique spring term provides a chance for students to experiment with classes outside of their majors and have a little extra time for fun. Some students use the term to study abroad while others spend the term in Lexington, enjoying classes on the front lawn, archeological digs, biology field classes and other different activities.

The six week term is always filled with cookouts, parties, trips to Goshen and other fun traditions like tropical themed fraternity parties, Alumni Weekend, Senior Nights, Derby Days and Foxfield. In between studying and "extra-curricular activities" don't forget to visit the Palm's and make at least one visit to Sweet Things. Spring term provides one last opportunity for seniors to enjoy the social scene at W&L and gives underclassmen a break before summer jobs and the next fall term.

Nick Ramsey copping a feel as a mentally challenged youth in Agnes Flak's one act

Ibraiz Imani took a leading role in Agnes Flak's one act that went on to perform at an international festival in Italy.

This year's season at Lenfest was full of new experiments and ideas, and new experiences for faculty and students alike. Under the leadership of new chairman Joseph Martinez, the theatre department has undertaken a forward looking, and more student based approach to its season than ever before.

The "Race in Rep" series in November took an in-depth look into race and ethnic situations and stereotypes, and was directed by Tom Ziegler. "The Colored Museum brought a large group of talented African-American actors into the W&L limelight, while "Spinning Into Butter" highlighted Alix Warren in her senior thesis playing a Dean of Students who gets caught in the middle of a very frustrating and emotionally draining situation.

"Godspell," in December, directed and produced by Neal Willetts '03, took student productions to a new level as Mindbending Productions, under his leadership, put up W&L's first student run and organized musical.

Winter term saw things keep on coming with Al Gordon's final show, "Wild Oats" in February, and the student One Acts right before Winter Term exams. Agnes Flak even saw her one act entered into an international festival in Italy, where her cast travelled to perform before an international audience.

Spring term saw children's theatre make an appearence on the W&L stage in "Town Mouse & Country Mouse," a wildly popular show aimed at the children in the Rockgbridge area.

One other group of actors that shouldn't be neglected are the performers of the French and German plays. Each year, this brave group of students set out to learn, and finally perform plays in either French or German respectively.

Finally, one can't discuss the Lenfest season without mentioning the fantastic concerts and performances by the music department and all of its many talented students and faculty. From the Sonoklect concerts, to the Chamber Singers and Chorus concerts, the music department never fails to bring music to our ears.

Baccalaureate was held Wednesday June 5, 2002 on the front lawn. Temperatures soared but parents were able to find shady spots under trees and graduates kept cool with fans and bottled water. Baccalaureate is always a time for reflection and preparation for graduation, as well as a dress rehearsal for graduation. This day gives graduates a chance to look a little deeper at the spiritual aspects of their four years spent at W&L and to think about their goals for the future of their lives. Rev. Herman, father of graduate Kristin, gave the Baccalaureate address. He reminded graduates that time passes quickly and that they should take full advantage of the opportunities life places before them before the time is gone.

Following the service, members of the class of 2002 and their families enjoyed lunch on Stemmons Plaza and were entertained by the sounds of a jazz ensemble.

Graduation - JUNE 6TH, 2002

"Life moves pretty fast. If you don't stop to look around every once in a while you might miss it". – Ferris Bueller's Day Off

At right, an anxious and hot senior class await the end of graduation even as it begins, if for no other reason than to take thse black gowns off

As always, graduation begins with seniors processing in to form the lines that the faculty come in between. Here is the beginning of the 25 minute long procession of seniors and faculty into graduation.

Veronica Griffith, always smiling, takes a moment as the line is walking towards graduation. Two hours from now and she's an alum rather than a senior!

Acting President Boetsch gave his graduation speech, harkening back to his days at W&L, and touching on the thoughts and feelings, and antics of those in the audience.

As the seniors processed through Washington Hall out onto the front lawn, their nervous faces were met with smiles and thumbs up from Dean Howison and security guard Melvin Davis.

Left, Faculty are ready to be seated after marching in their black gowns and academic hoods. What will they be doing during graduation--sleeping, reading or watching the sun and praying for shade?

Below left, we see the students relaxing on the lawn watching as their siblings and friends graduate, snapping away with cameras, and realizing that they are just one more step closer to it all themselves.

Below, Graduates march past the faculty in all their academic costume. In a few years maybe some of these graduates will be sitting in the faculty seats

Could she look any happier? Christina Lakatos waltzing towards graduation...

Twenty international students representing countries from Belgium to Costa Rica to Tanzania are among Washington and Lee University's 402 graduates, who processed down the Front Lawn and reached up for their parchments today (June 6). This year's graduates represented 35 states and the District of Columbia; 46 percent are women and 54 percent are men; 9 percent are non-white; the graduates average age is 22 years old; and the average grade point of the Class of 2002 is 3.25.

Following tradition, acting President Laurent Boetsch was the featured speaker at the 10 a.m. event. It marks the first time Boetsch, a '69 alumnus and W&L's former academic affairs vice president, presided over commencement since he assumed the helm of the University following the July 27 death of President John W. Elrod.

Roughly one-in-four members of the Class of 2002 graduated with more than one major and 9 percent earned dual bachelor degrees by completing all the requirements in fields including science and commerce. The most popular fields among this year's graduates include business administration, representing 17 percent of the class; economics, 13 percent; accounting and business administration, 10 percent; English, 9 percent; and politics, 8 percent. More unusual majors in the class include theater, studio arts and archeology-anthropology.

Reginald K. Brack Jr., Mimi Milner Elrod and Farris Pierson Hotchkiss are honorary degree recipients for their contributions to the University. Brack, a '59 alumnus and active W&L supporter, is the former chairman and CEO of Time Inc.; Dr. Elrod, wife of the late president, is the director of W&L's Summer Scholars program; and Hotchkiss, a '54 alumnus and legendary University fundraiser and development officer, recently retired as senior assistant to the president.

“Whatever you are, be a good one” . – Abraham Lincoln

"People will frighten you about a graduation ....They use words you don't hear often... "And we wish you God-speed." It is a warning, Godpeed. It means you are no longer welcome here at these prices."

".. a university has no real existence and no real purpose except as it succeeds in putting you in touch, both as specialist and as humans, with those minds your human mind needs to include. The faculty, by its very existence, says implicitly: 'We have been aided by many people, and by many books, and by the arts, in our attempt to make ourselves some sort of storehouse of human experience. We are here to make available to you, as best we can, that experience."
— John A. Ciardi, poet and Professor of English, Rutgers University

"There was a genuine menu of life-opportunities ahead: (a) injustice to denounce; (b) literature to take inwardly for the first time; ... and above all (c) a marvelous variety of people that this frosh never imagined existed ... What a palette of personalities for this freshman to survey ..."

"By the time the average person finishes college he or she will have taken over 2,600 tests, quizzes and exams. The 'right answer' approach becomes deeply ingrained in our thinking. This may be fine for some mathematical problems, where there is in fact only one right answer. The difficulty is that most of life isn't that way. Life is ambiguous; there are many right answers - all depending on what you are looking for. But if you think there is only one right answer, then you'll stop looking as soon as you find one."

The Xi Lambda chapter of Chi Omega had a brilliant year. Under the outstanding guidance of our president, Megan Lott, Chi Omega lead the way in service, scholarship, activities, athletics and FUN!

Chi Omegas raised money for Cystic Fibrosis research and Make-A-Wish, and we actively participated in Relay-for-Life, a Chi O tradition. Chi O's excellence in academics was demonstrated by all of our sisters in Phi Eta Sigma, Omicron Delta Kappa and Phi Beta Kappa. Sisters are very involved all over campus with leadership positions in Nabor's Service League, Habitat, EC, SAB, GCF, SRC, FD, Kathekon, JubiLee, Contact and many more activities. Chi Omegas are also super stars in lacrosse, tennis, track, cross-country, swimming, basketball, softball, cheerleading and riding. When it comes to fun Chi Omegas, as always, lead the way on campus. The list of great memories goes on and on with Persephone's Fall Formal, Italian Wedding, Back to the Play Ground, Mardi Gras, Headbangers, Anything for Money, Foxfield, White Carnation Spring Semi-Formal, Feb Break in Vegas and spring break in Charleston. Recruitment was also a huge success for Chi O as we snagged the 37 greatest ladies on campus! We know they will continue the tradition of unity, achievement and fun. We would like to thank everyone who helped make 2001-2002 another amazing year for Chi O. Most of all we would like to thank our outstanding seniors for all memories and great times! We wish you the best, and please always remember there is a home waiting for you here!

ALPHA OMICRON DELTA
ESTABLISHED 1977

Inch by inch, step by step, the Lodge eassed into another year of social climbing on Hollywood's magical ladder. Starting at the bottom (in GPA) and working our way up, we found out that we are only the 12th dumbest fraternity on campus, and the 6th sketchiest. Impervious to the "numbers myth," the Lodge pressed forward with its "who need money?" frame of mind.

As the flea market closed, we moved out to the Bow with the likes of Sketchy McSketch, Spruce Moose, and Ball Glass for the first and last time. PM brought the Stink to the Lodge, but couldn't get rid of it while The Pregnant Man and Vinnie did their best to re-enact the Shining. The Puerto Rican Teddy Bear and Twan made their way to tailgate, though we were all too sober to enjoy it. Margaritaville??? Did anything happen??? Good choices were made at Homecoming again, and May Yoda rode off into the sunset with a cowboy. The Newly Wed saw fit for relief at late night, and Penny was rolling with delight. It only took thwee minutes to wuv the Gerbil, Mulligan developed a taste for fine wine and Brie, and Ruprect's uncanny ability to juggle girlfriends shined through. Shots? Winter came and Santa had 27 kills and one set of dirty sheets at the Morris House. Hammerhead took us skiing and Mulligan was the first to carve the powder with his new bike. Nadia was the climax of our giant rush, but the celebration was a bit premature, just ask the Sugar Bear. By the way, have you seen him?

After a few bumps in the road and a rough farewell to the Old Man, the Lodge regrouped and Winter term saw Da Bring transform into the Frat Lord. We are still trying to figure out who stole his penis--I mean--hit record. Boo? Boo! Cooter prepared us for our new pledge class by giving us a lesson in toleration. Did you know that if you bid enough foreign kids you trip balls? The Short Bus found a driver and we can only hope that she hasn't been drinking. But through all of the trials, the Lodge has managed to Sail to freedom. The ATF talked their shim-shammy but Iceman was able to produce RCHS IDs for all of his friends, we just hope the repot man doesn't come and take them back. Gilligan had his film-making debut at Snails expense, and his work is hot--but not that hot. A flurry of girlfriends saw Slappy, PM, and Short Bus disappear, but Slappy redeemed himself in unique fashion while giving Hanukah Harry's car a shower. The Needle-D kept the Beam and Ballsweats rolling with the frequency of the carpet as FD came and the Great American Flex-Off began. Kabuki's had us whistling "Jesse's Girl" to the ball, where Ruprect decided to trade in his ticket for a 'Get-Out-of-Jail-Free' card.

Spring term rolled around and the Lodge found itself short on Duuuues. Poop also stepped down, but by this point, that's a habit. The Gerbil burrowed away, but resurfaced eventually, and the word on the street is that the Lodge will be up one Yo Boy by fall term.

A long sigh and a farewell to Slappy, Smitty, Mulligan, Lunchbox, Frat Legend (although highly controversial), Iceman, Ruprect, Squirrel, Frogger, JBohnet. Butticle and Supposition decided to sit in for one more round. All in all, while numbers and GPA didn't speak, the Lodge sure managed to stay both cool and tough.

The Zeta Iota Chapter of Kappa Alpha Theta had a wonderful 2001-2002 school year. Under the excellent leadership of president Alicia Brandt and our newest president, Diane Averyt, Thetas excelled in all areas of campus life. Thetas were star athletes on the field hockey, soccer, volleyball, swimming, riding, lacrosse, tennis and water polo teams on campus. We also held many leadership positions in student groups such as the SRC, SJC, FOC, FLC, FD Steering Committee, Dorm Counselors, Nabors Service League, University Faculty Hearing Board, Kathekon and lots more! The ever-studious Thetas also had members initiated into Phi Beta Kappa, Phi Eta Sigma and ODK. Being the social butterflies that we are, our calendars were packed with fun this year. We partied at Twin Stars Ball, Tacky Prom, Foxfields, Headbangers Ball, Playboy Mansion, PJ Party, Redneck Ball, Kite and Key, Beta Theta Toga, Spring Fling and Find a Mister for your Sister. Oh, and don't forget we are the 2002 Derby Days Champions! With all this socializing, Thetas didn't forget the community. We had a successful 5K Run and Pancake Breakfast for CASA and a Valentine's Day Rose Sale for the American Heart Association. Recruitment 2002 was one of the highlights of the year. We snagged 37 of the most fun and awesome girls on campus! They are sure to carry on the fine Theta traditions, picking up where our amazing seniors leave off. We love and will miss our departing seniors, and wish them the best of luck in all their endeavors!

The girls are excited to be finished with Preference Night of New Member Recruitment 2002.

The sisters of the Zeta Tau chapter of Kappa Delta had a fantastic 5th year under the leadership of past President Amanda Kelley and current President Brodie Gregory. We had a spectacular recruitment and love our fabulous freshmen! Kudos to social chairs Abby Harding and Cate Lacy for filling our social calendar with date functions likeTacky Prom, Famous Lovers and our Fall and Spring Formals; and themed mixers like Death by Disco, Revenge of the Nerds, Cinco de Mayo and 40's and Floaties. We also made memories at school-wide functions like Fancy Dress, Foxfield, Lip Synch, and tailgating. KD's find time to contribute to many clubs, organizations, and athletic teams on campus. Our sisters are involved in the Nabors Service League, Kathekon, Freshmen Leadership Committee, Dorm Counselor Staff, Contact, Fancy Dress Steering Committee, Freshmen Orientation Committee, University Chorus, Chamber Singers, JubiLee, GASD, and SAB. Our athletes competed like champs in Cross Country, Track, Soccer, Tennis, Lacrosse, Field Hockey, and Swimming. KD's participate in many philanthropic events throughout the year, such as our Annual 3-on-3 Shamrock Basketball Tournament, 5K Run/Walk, and Big Buddy and Tutoring Programs. Many thanks to those who make our house Sweet Home Kappa Delta-- Mama Sara, Mr. Bitz, Pattie, Bambi, Liz, and Zola. We had an awesome year and cannot wait to come back stronger than ever in the fall! Congratulations and best of luck to our graduating seniors-- we will miss you!

Christina Twomey and Heather Neisman during Christmas Weekend.

Sarah Lyon, Lauren Paxton, Amanada Kelley, Gray Harden, Lucy Rankin, Kate Reeves, Brooke Belasco, Lindsay Cooper.

Stephanie Briggs & Andrea Ceccarelli enjoyed fajitas and 'ritas at Cinco de Mayo.

Martha Frankfort, Mary Jacob Rankin, Lucy Rankin, and Lindsey Kneipper on Tear Night.

Ansley Warren and Cate Lacy at Old South.

Austin Scott, Lindsey Kneipper, Noe Garth, Jeane Hanowell, Mary Jacob Rankin, and Ashley Trice were Lip Synch superstars.

Claire Smith, Burke Duncan, Elizabeth Schoen, and Alison Gruenwald at Dukes of Hazard.

The Zeta Tau Chapter of Kappa Kappa Gamma's strong commitment to involvement and leadership made the 2001-2002 school year incredibly successful. Both Presidents, Carolyn Pressly '02 and Julia Simmons '03, provided the enthusiasm and organization to lead our chapter to such great success. Kappas made serious contributions to all different facets of W&L. The diverse strengths of the members of the Zeta Tau chapter allowed us to lead in academic, athletics, and campus involvement. Several members were initiated into Phi Beta Kappa, ODK, and Phi Eta Sigma. Also with the leadership of Kate Mahan, the tutoring program was able to make a significant contribution to the schools of the Rockbridge County Area. However, you could also see Kappas all over the athletic fields participating in soccer, cross-country, basketball, swimming, tennis, track, and lacrosse. Several members were named Academic All-Americans on their varsity teams. In addition to their commitment to academics and athletics, Kappa members made significant contributions to our campus through their leadership positions on several different campus organizations including the Executive Committee, Fancy Dress Steering Committee, GCF, Jubilee, Kathekon, FOC, LIFE, SAB, Arete, Nabors Service League, GASD, Habitat for Humanity and many more. Kappas also had quite an active social life this 2001-2002 school year. With the leadership of our social chairs, Katherine Shain and Julia Simmons '01 and Miriam Rodgers and Brooke Roseberry '02, several different events were organized such as Kappa Kountry, Fall Formal, Kite and Key, Kappa Kuisine, Foxfield, Spring Formal, Derby Days and several other joint events with other sororities and fraternities. Rush, as always, was an absolute success. Our recruitment chair, Kelli Carpenter, helped lead us to initiate our fantastic new pledge class, which has already shown all those characteristics which Kappa holds important. All of our friendships have continued to grow stronger. This has been such a great year! Kappa also wants to thank the seniors for all the contributions they have given to our chapter. You all will be greatly missed. We wish you all the best of luck next year!

This was yet another great year at 225 E. Nelson Street. Rush and the social scene were a major success. Highlights included the infamous Tropical party, Homecoming Weekend and the two daylong Lambdapalooza. The brotherhood was involved on campus in varsity sports, IM sports, Dorm Counselors, the Freshmen Leadership Council, the Contact Committee, the Ring-Tum Phi, Rescue squad, WLUR and the Williams Investment Society.

The future looks bright for the Gamma Phi chapter as we brought in 15 freshmen. Thank you to number one for a wonderful evening in Charlotte. We know you were just trying to be a hangout guy.

Thanks to outgoing seniors Matthew Conner, Ken Jackman, Dustin Olson, Christian Miller, Fon Rogers and Rob Bland for all they have done for the house. Good luck in your future careers. We will miss you all. "We few, we happy few, we band of brothers; for he to-day that sheds his blood with me shall be my brother..." -Henry V; Act IV, Scene III

The Zeta Deuteron chapter of Phi Gamma Delta took no prisoners in 2001/2002. In addition to having the highest GPA on campus yet again, Fiji's were Dorm Counselors, RA's, leading intramural performers, captains of varsity sports, volunteers in their community, and Phi Beta Kappa members.

There was much tomfoolery to be had this year at the house. Here are the highlights for 2001/2002. First and foremost, sleigh-riders, HO! Excuse me Larry, Melvin, whoever! "Don't worry, I'm looking out for you guys, I won't report anything." Brother Fetus entered his third trimester. AHHHHT! Brother Cold Beer revealed his secret to temperature maintenance- 41 degrees. Brother Old Testament raged and raged. Brother Billy Bill said, "Personally, I don't think that's very funny." Team Masshole cheered for the Pats. Everyone wondered what stood behind door number 3. Room 2.5 was born. Brother The Virgin checked into Betty Ford. The pledge class hated on Brother Choir Boy. Brother Major Yabos almost got nabbed- nobody heard the shrill scream we swear. Brother Wild Wonderful maintained his "worst kept secret" status. Brother Melester and Brother Cold Beer simultaneously expanded their horizons, horizontally. Brother That Guy told enough whoppers to feed China. Brother Kerkerdo hugged some trees. Brother Oilcan Bob was fun, then reverted. Brother The Neck gave up single malt? Member Spring Fling requested that Brother Chair Love's "ladies room" story not be repeated. Brother Cro Magnon broke his draught (while staring at a Kurt Cobain poster)...and payed for his crime. He still claims, "it was worth it!" MUCH-MORE!!! The Original officially reached Icon status and ventured into uncharted territory with his door locked. Brother Gaylord Focker did him justice on Halloween and proceeded to follow Dan Cagey's footsteps. Brother Sloppy Seconds should have been named Sloppy Fifths. Brother Andrew Pierpan is the hottest guy in this house! Its just when he opens his mouth that there's a problem. The dynasty of King Carmody and Queen "Low- Brow" cloned themselves for a second term. Brother Jobu's girlfriend got one year closer to being legal. HALO. In addition to his continued dominance on the IM field, Brother Phil A. Tio was entertaining, funny, and a hit with the ladies! With his 15 seconds of fame, the Quiet General spent 5 seconds correcting the interviewer "Look Bill, its Phillip and, yes, I am wearing Brooks Brothers." Brother Belvidere added some liberal character to the house, who knew we pledged the Pat Buchanan of the Indian reservation? Zeta Deuteron also opened our borders to Buena Vista townies. Brother Té needs to be mentioned too, dammit! Brother Pierpan is still seeking the copyright to the now infamous phrase, FTS. The Kid will be missed. Brother O-Stizzle wowed Jersey girls and remembered little of it. The Kid, Melester, and Carny praised the merits of Brother Gary, leaving the rest of the house wondering what they saw in him. Brother Japanese Jude returned from the Orient and forgot to cut his hair.

The Phi Gam tradition lives on. Quite frankly we're almost getting tired of our continued domination. It's a tough life, but fortunately the Fiji's will continue their tradition of Fijascoes and weight room ownership well into the future. Sup!

The brothers of the Skull Lodge had another remarkable year. The highlight of the fall semester proved once again to be Christmas Weekend. We all boarded buses with dates and freshmen and headed to Charlottesville, then proceeded to a Japanese steak restaurant where we literally "burned down the house" and then on to Down Under. Charlie Moore received mad props from the DJ and Gavin Kimball may have found true love.

Winter Term produced sixteen freshmen. These outstanding gentlemen can be described as nothing less than skulltastic. As the term proceeded we celebrated our annual 100 Years Formal. Dave "I Know Your Mother" Skeen and Andrew Barnett danced all night to the sweet tunes of Gonzo's Nose. DJ Curious made a few guest appearances at the lodge. The winter also featured one of the last shows of the Poston Brown Project, which includes teen heart-throbs Marshall Schutt and Wick Ruehling. During alumni weekend, Phi Kaps of all ages proved they could still party like they used to in college. At the end of the weekend, there was a little damage done and Ann thought it best for us to think about is for two weeks. Spring Term, as always, was outstanding and highlighted by the annual Bahamas Party and the house volleyball tournament.

The Skull Lodge had an outstanding year outside of the classroom. On the athletic fields, Phi Kaps excelled with members of the football, soccer, lacrosse, swimming, golf, and baseball teams; and captains of the football team, lacrosse team, soccer team, and golf team. Three members served on the Executive Committee. Van "Beer Train" Taylor also went on an impressive three-week hunger strike to protest the new ban on drinking in the showers.

Phi Kaps will miss its graduating seniors: Andrew Barnett, Curt Gallagher, Paul Wallace, Jeff Bahl, David Skeen, Chris Shortall, Andrew Grimes, Drew Chrichton, Eddie Eichler, Scott Link, Matt Smith, Dave Kodack, Russel Hewitt, Charlie Carroccio, Carling Dinkler, Sean Sheehan, and Marshall Schutt.

Phi Kappa Sigma also experienced the loss of one of our brothers, Curtis Morrison Bethea, Jr. Curtis was a senior from New Orleans, Louisiana. While at Washington and Lee, Curtis was captain of the varsity golf team and a member of the Williams Investment Society. To say that the University and Phi Kap will miss him is an understatement. He was a beloved friend, and we are all happy to have had a chance to know him.

Once again the Pi Beta Phi's were an unstoppable force on the Washington and Lee campus. Even with the highest GPA on campus, we found time to participate in countless other activities such as FOC, LIFE, GCF, SRC, Chamber Singers, University Chorus, Wind Ensemble, W&L Dance, numerous theater productions, Kewl, The Network, General Admission, RUF, and SAIL. Our athletes participate in swimming, the riding team, tennis, soccer, track, cross country, volleyball, and we also had members inducted into Phi Beta Kappa, Phi Eta Sigma, and ODK. Not only did we accomplish all that but our social calendar stayed full throughout the year. Our Beau's and Arrows formal, Toga Party, Wine & Blues, and Spring Semi-formal were just a few of the events where Pi Phi's let their hair down. We also raised money by sponsoring the Make a Wish Flag Football Tournament, Pi Phi D-Hall night, and our Links to Literacy Book Drive. With Winter Term 2002 came our awesome new sisters, who are lucky enough to join Pi Phi in its 10th year on this campus. The Virginia Theta Chapter of Pi Beta Phi celebrated its 10th anniversary on April 25. After a fabulous year for our Chapter we wish our seniors a huge farewell and good luck next year, to our new sisters, a welcome home. Flying High Since 1992, Ten Years of Heaven on Earth.

For Sig Ep, the 2001-2002 school year was, in a word, neat. "Why neat?", you're probably asking. Well, our tale begins with a young man, lost, confused, alone, sleepy, and a little hungry. That man's name is Josh Patten, whose ill-fated regime came to a merciful end with the beginning of 2002, as Allegro took over and promptly drove our beloved fraternity into debt, lawsuits, and numerous tête-à-têtes with our feisty house mother, who has consistently threatened to revoke our charter if we fail to use coasters. In addition, a number (3) of our seniors became engaged this year, which brings the reasoning capacities of women everywhere into question. Jack, Spooks, Malinzak, Hagan, Jay C, Private Pyle, G Love Aurit, Kirkland, The Don of Policelli, Phrat Sak, JP the Elder, and the master of skullduggery himself, Dalgliesh—you guys were, to use the parlance of our times, the bomb-diggity. Now give us money, you miserly alums (Cressaty is still exempted while he completes his victory lap next year). Of course, the circle of life is in full effect, as our stellar crop of freshmen constitutes the lifeblood of our fraternity. I believe that Noble is our future. Teach him well and let him lead the way.

Ah yes, the shenanigans. For the second year in a row, Hoover and Chuckles proved to be the masters of Beirut, a title that they will most definitely relinquish next year. Also, Caveman proved to be full of all the pomp, regalia, and offensive t-shirts that so richly enliven the Cave-tacular experience. Mad props (did I just say "mad props"?) to the GHQ, who rescued our FD dinner from the clutches of tyrannical misanthropy. The boys of U.B.A.N. also did their part to guide our house into the proper direction, although they were mostly too busy scratching themselves to effect real change. Seniors—may your road be prosperous, your love be eternal, and your feet always well-shod. You'll not be forgotten. Neat!

You may not know all that the world has to offer...
But we know the world will be a better place
Because of what you have to offer it!
You may not know which path you should follow,
But we know that you will listen to your heart,
For it will never lie!
You may question what you have already accomplished,
But we know you will never doubt what
You can do!
As all of your tommorows open themselves to you,
Never forget how proud we are of you and all you have accomplished,
Yesterday, today and always!
Jess,
We have loved you with all our hearts
Ever since the day you were born,
But everyday -in your own way,
You have given us reasons to love you even more!

The Lord is my shepherd; I will not want.
He makes me to lie down in green pastures.
He leads me beside the still waters.
He restores my soul.
He leads me in the paths of righteousness
For His name's sake
Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death,
I will fear no evil.
For you are with me
Your rod and Your staff they comfort me.
You prepare a table before me in the presence of my enemies.
You anoint my head with oil
My cup runs over.
Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me,
All the days of my life
And I will dwell in the house of the Lord. Forever.

"To laugh often and much.
to win the respect of intelligent people and the affection of children, to earn the appreciation of honest critics and endure
the betrayal of false friends.
to appreciate beauty......
to find the best in others,
to leave the world a little better;
whether by a healthy child,
a garden patch or a redeemed
social condition; to know even one life has breathed easier because you have lived.
This is the meaning of Success."

Jeremy,
Emerson could have been writing about you in the quote above. So many successes (large and small) you have had, and now, with your graduation from W&L, yet another. A really grand accomplishment! We are so immensely proud of you and confident that you will go as far as your dreams can take you. The world awaits, young man......and you are ready. With all of our love, Son, Congratulations on all of your successes and may God bless you.

Congratulations, Ali!!!

Where have all the years gone? It feels like only yesterday when Dad, your younger brothers & I went there in Virginia to see you to your new place. It was very difficult for us to leave you there since there was never a period of time you have been away. There was always Dad or Mom around when you were growing up. That was a BIG CHANGE for us when you left for college. However, your calls every Sunday evening made the transition easier to us, & I hope to you as well.

Now you're graduating. Ali, that is wonderful! You are awesome! Your Dad & I, as well as your brothers Jun & AJ, are extremely PROUD of you. WE LOVE YOU very much! You are an exemplary role model to your brothers. We are blessed to have you for our daughter for you are so good in every way. You made being a parent EASY & FUN!

Ali, here's our colorful bouquet of wishes for you –a huge bunch of more SUCCESS, heaps of GOOD HEALTH & LAUGHTER, lots & lots of LOVE & AFFECTION, tons of loyal FRIENDS to have fun with, an impressive high paying JOB that's going to give you inner satisfaction, & last but not least, PEACE & HAPPINESS. Alison, YOU DESERVE all those & more!

We love you,

Dear Graham:

Even though you will bid an affectionate farewell to the Colonnade in June 2002, you will never really leave Washington and Lee. You will forever carry General Lee's College in your heart.

The University and Alpha Chapter of Kappa Alpha Order have been enriched by your participation. You will- as I have- carry with you so many cherished memories of your four years in Lexington for the rest of your life.

As General Lee said: "It is history that teaches us Hope."
I am so very proud of you, Son.

Now go out and enrich the world as much as you have enriched our lives.

Today is your day
You're off to great places!
You're off and away!
You're on your own. And
You know what you know.
And you are the one who'll decide where to go so... today is your day!
Your mountain is waiting.
so get on your way!

Veronica,
What do happy Doctors, Lawyers, Indian Chiefs, and Ditch Diggers have in common? They all love what they do and have found what's right for them. That's our wish for you. Find your passion, find what fits, and go have fun with it. We are proud of you. Always have been and always will be. The only difference between these two pictures is the growth in you that has occurred in between the taking of them. The smile in your eyes, the compassion in your heart, and the spirit in your soul have been constant. We'll be watching to see that this does not change with future snapshots in time. Enjoy the process. It's worth the trip.
Love ya, Mom and Dad

Colophon

The 2002 Calyx was produced by Jostens Publishing at their Winston-Salem, North Carolina plant. The book is 348 pages, including 80 pages of full color. The theme was developed by the Editors in the Spring of 2001 and further continued by the wonderful, talented and dedicated staff. The cover was designed by Katie Frusti & Neal Willetts. The staff would like to thank our Josten's representative, Jay Hollis. Our deepest appreciation goes to Carol Calkins for her understanding, patience and kindness with us during the year. Special thanks to Teresa Frusti, the first non-W&L Calyx staff member. Also, thanks to the business office, the Executive Committee, the Treasurer's Office, the Ring-tum Phi, the Publications Office, Dean Howison, and the faculty, staff and student body of W&L for their support in producing this annual. Also, Mr. Brian Laubscher and the Sports Information Desk and Website have been an invaluable tool in the production of this annual. The Editors also wishes to take this opportunity to wish the staff's graduating seniors, Katie Frizzell, Andrea Ceccarelli, Brook Sherwood & Jeremy Kirkland, good luck in the future! It was a blast having all of you on staff, we know you'll go far in whatever you do. Thank you all so much for your hard work - we couldn't have done it without you!
